

VERSATILE ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTING SUPPORT

North Harbour Planning Limited (NHPL) provides resource management services, covering many aspects of resource consenting and environmental planning work.

Our skills effectively address complex issues in urban and rural settings, comprising:

- Writing of AEEs and resource consent application reports to Local and Regional Authorities
- Preparing and presenting expert evidence for Council and Environment Court hearings
- Making submissions on notified consent applications, private plan changes and plan reviews
- Site condition assessments and activity feasibility studies/due diligence on planning matters
- Processing of resource consent applications for Councils and RMA compliance support
- Representing clients on industrial and trade processes – consent renewals and site audits

NHPL often acts as the lead consultant or project manager during the formulation and environmental reporting phases of a project, through to the successful conclusion (of obtaining the necessary approvals).

The resource management services we supply are varied – areas in which we are a trusted expert include:

- Communal water and wastewater
- Subdivision and certification
- Residential development activities
- Monitoring bulk earthworks
- Consenting for geotechnical projects
- Site rehabilitation plans
